Description

An early 20th century kneehole writing table in the Georgian style, crafted from mahogany. The desk features a brown leather writing surface and an arrangement of three fitted drawers, each adorned with brass drop handles. It is raised on elegantly carved ball-and-claw feet, with intricate detailing at the tops of the legs, making it a visually striking and functional piece. Item Ref: M-5747 DIMENSIONS: Height – 77cm / Width – 92cm / Depth – 53.5cm / Knee Height – 54cm CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition, with some signs of age and use. Surface wear is evident, including age-related marks and scratches. The leather writing surface shows some staining (pictured) and areas of loss to the leather inset (pictured). Despite this, the kneehole writing table remains structurally sound and solid. Our experienced carpenter meticulously inspects, repairs, and restores each item in our collection. This ensures that every piece you purchase from us is ready to be seamlessly incorporated into your home.
