Description

This is a magnificent antique rocking horse and dates back over 100 years to circa 1900. The horse is made of high quality carved wood and stands on a sturdy pine base. The attention to detail in the horses structure and form is quite exquisite, a true classic late Victorian - Edwardian era children's play toy. The horse is perfect for collectors or anyone who appreciates the beauty of antique toys. It would make a great addition to any collection of vintage and classic toys or still can be used for its original purpose as the rockers are in good working order and provide a smooth and enjoyable ride. This is a rare opportunity to own a piece of history and bring a touch of nostalgia to your home.
