Description

A superb Japanese Meiji period (1868-1912) Bronze Okimono of a Crab, which features very rare articulated legs and pincers. The detail is astonishing and the way the legs move is highly realistic. There is a signature stamped into the underside, however it is hard to read. I have been unable to establish the name of the sculptor. Workmanship is of the highest order. Dated: c.1870-1880. Dimensions: 9 x 6cm. Weight: 182 gr

Internal Ref: 1653/Q
