Description

A good 17th Century drop leaf table of small proportions. The table top is made from three wide planks of broad grained oak of a superb colour and patina. Having finely turned legs, moulded stretchers and turned gates to support the leaves. Tables of this size are highly practical and can be used in a variety of settings, such as at the end of a sofa, in a hallway, or as a supper table. In very good condition with untouched pegs and the original turned feet. Hinges and drawer linings are later. Sizes when the leaves are down: 72cm High, 89cm Wide and 37cm Deep
