Description

A Victorian button back occasional chair suitable for use in a corner, circa 1870, the sprung seat of triangular form and with a serpentine shaped front, raised on foliate carved scroll front supports terminating in original brass and porcelain castors. In good, solid condition with a comfortable seat and no wobbles to the frame however it does need re-covering and additional wadding to the button back. I can arrange re-upholstery and supply fabric if required. Please get in touch for details. The back 76cm high, the seat 73cm at the widest point at the front, 45cm deep and 32cm high.
