Please Note. This price excludes the cost of carriage which will be an additional £18.00 within the UK. Worldwide shipping available A fine quality watercolour that shows an Edwardian hunt by this most talented artist. In full cry, the horses are most skilfully painted. Their tails are cut to the fashion of the era. Most ladies rode side saddle, a refusal which always makes the followers behind rather nervous and yet, the thrusters carry on. A beautifully detailed example of this most talented artists work, ideal for enthusiastic followers of this historic sport. Signed lower right, presented within a glazed gilt frame with ivory coloured mount. Size image only: H41.7cm L50.9cm Other hunting studies available in our eBay store. Worldwide shipping available. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact. Thomas Ivester Lloyd was a self taught artist born in Liverpool. He lived with his mother and four siblings. He was educated until the age of 13 and went on to work as a poster designer having been untruthful about his age. Thomas later met his wife Florence in 1900 and the pair shared a love for animals which was what brought them together. H...
