Description

A Georgian period, solid elm corner elbow armchair, dating from the late C18th (George III). This well figured elm framed armchair features a curved back rest, over broad continuous arm rail with scrolled ends, three turned supports separated by twin pierced back splats. Drop in seat, upholstered in brown velvet, raised on square legs supported by stretchers. A charming country chair. Some flaws, but full of character and with excellent polish and patina. Ready for use. Dimensions: This armchair measures approximately 78 cm (30.75") tall, 76 cm (30") wide, and 59 cm (23.25") deep. The seat height is approximately 43.5 cm (17.125"). Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - This chair is in a reasonably good and original condition commensurate with its age. Some marks and blemishes. Some old and extinct worm holes, typical of elm antique furniture, that does not affect the sturdiness of the chair in any way, and now treated as way of precaution. There is damage to the front knee, though the joint is secure. It could be filled but it would take away from the chairs charm. Repairs to the bottom of both splat saddles, though these are wel...
