Description

Antique Stauffer & Co IWC silver pocket watch. The watch has a stem-winding movement which is working nicely. Although Stauffer & Co produced movements in their own right, they also sourced a smaller number of movements from IWC. This particular movement has the Stauffer & Co mark, together with the Peerless name which tells us that the movement was made by IWC (International Watch Company). The movement also carries the IWC serial number which dates it back to around 1910. It also has a brevet (patent) number 31457 which relates to a 1911 application in the name of J Rauschenbach who acquired IWC in 1880. The movement is protected by an inner hinged cover. The watch measures 51mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is silver and there are hallmarks for London 1910 together with a sponsor's mark for Charles Nicolet, the director of Stauffer & Co. The case is in good condition, just a hint of unevenness to the back and general very light surface marks. The glass lens is in good condition. The dial is in lovely condition with blued steel hands, a subsidiary seconds dial and outer minute markers. The watch comes in a new presentation box.
