Description

A good early oak gate leg table of small size with single turned capital ends and sledge feet. In good original condition, there is an old repair to one gate as shown in the images and one extra old butterfly hinge has been added at some point in it's history. Both leaves are single pieces and highly figured as is the centre leaf. The patina is superb. This is a rare survival of a desirable form. England. Circa 1680 Depth 33cm (13') closed
