Description

A gorgeous ornate paste set Austro Hungarian bracelet dating from c.1860's. The bracelet is very prettily fashioned with fancy sections: some set with a single pink stone; the alternating panels with a central green stone flanked by two smaller pink stones with pearls to each end. The bracelet tests as 850 grade silver and the bracelet has a warm gilt finish. Each section has a loop link with an embossed floral motif and the clasp is fashioned as a bar studded again with pink paste and pearl decoration. The push fastening works well and a fine safety chain is also attached. The combined effect of the silver gilt the bright paste and seed pearls is extremely pretty and this truly is a lovely antique bracelet in the continental style. Marked with an oak leaf and KT to the clasp but maker not identified. Condition: One of the seed pearls near the clasp is chipped - please refer to the photos. Aside from this flaw the brooch is in lovely condition. Measurements: Length: 6 " Weight: 9.2 grams All measurements are approximate.
