Description

A 1944 Omega 'Red Star' with the classic 30T2 movement. The watch has gold bezel and a stainless steel case, on a leather strap with gold Omega buckle. The dial shows a nice patina with gold numerals and stylish hands, as well as sunken subdial and Omega red star. The red star was added to Omega dials at the time honouring the movement which had won an award at the Teddington Observatory, being the most accurate. The case measures 41mm in length, 35mm in diameter, not including the crown, and 9mm in depth. Reference number 10953425.
