SoldItem Reference: SA1114040*Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

A beautifully ornate George III chinoiserie cabinet. The cabinet features a black lacquer finish with detailed artwork that contrasts beautifully against the dark background. This is a hallmark of the chinoiserie style, emphasizing opulence and craftsmanship. The two front doors of the cabinet display an intricate landscape scene: Figures appear engaged in various activities, such as walking, conversing, or tending to animals. The landscape includes hills, trees, pagodas, and bodies of water, creating an idyllic and serene setting. Birds are seen soaring above, adding to the dynamic composition. A central engraved diamond-shaped motif acts as a focal point on the cabinet doors, enhancing the symmetry and balance of the design. The cabinet is mounted on an elegant stand with an open rectangular base, decorated with intricate patterns. The legs feature delicate hand decorated designs, adding to the overall sophistication. The cabinet doors once fully open, reveal a highly detailed and ornate interior. The inner and outer surfaces showcase intricate scenes of Chinese landscapes, flora, fauna, and traditional architecture. The artwork features gold detailing against a black l...
