Description

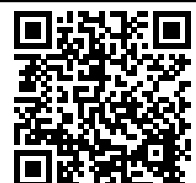

This is an antique coiffeuse dressing table. A French, kingwood extending writing table in Louis XV revival taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Exceptional dressing table with concealed functions and a beautiful appearance. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good antique order. Superb kingwood presents fine grain interest throughout. Graced with rich caramel hues beneath a quality wax polish finish. Three part top presents striking parquetry with a quartered chequer pattern. Central section opens upwards, allowing the side leaves to extend. Reveals a quality dressing mirror situated upon an articulated rest, with fore and aft movement. The plate presents minimal foxing and a bright reflection. Of breakfront form, the distinctive shaped apron hosts a trio of vestigial brass handles. The fourth handle accesses a concealed drawer, in the lower right hand position. Ornate brass lock escutcheon to the centre — untested, key absent. At the bottom edge, a tooled and embossed leather jewellery or correspondence slide. Concealed drawer to the lower right crafted upon an oak drawer box. Useful storage beneath the three piece top ideal for keeping accoutrements. Rais...
