Description

An Edwardian Button and Studded Leather Antique Wing Back Arm Chair C1910. A superbly stylish buttoned and studded, leather fireside-wingback antique chair, circa 1900-1920 with areas of wear and tear to the handsomely worn leather, easily repairable or ready for a part upholstery. A wonderfully worn, deep seated wingback in a tan leather, studded and buttoned, standing well upon mahogany legs and original castors. Please note there are some tears to the leather, the upholstery is still otherwise firm in most areas and easily saved with a visit to an upholstery to repair. Presently available as it is and priced sensibly to reflect, we may end listing and consign to our workshop for some conservation and relist at a higher price, until then available. A versatile fireside wingback, English antique country house chair for a classic or contemporary space, an interior design piece with considerable decorative appeal.
