SoldItem Reference: SA1116053*Date of manufacture: Georgian

Description

A rare English George II antique solid sterling silver butter spreader. It is hallmarked for London 1759 with the makers mark being difficult to decipher. I do not know if this is original or reworked. It is in super condition being free from dings splits and repairs. It measures approx. 4.75 inches (12cm) long by over 0.5 inch (1.6cm) wide and weighs 24 grams. A beautifully made piece.
