Description

A striking 19th-century Anglo-Indian writing slope crafted from solid ebony, featuring a distinguished architectural form. Its delicate scale and contrasting materials make it a beautiful statement piece for a library desk, a quiet study table, or a prominent living room console. The slope is defined by its meticulous, hand-carved reeded decoration and delicate ivory inlay that creates a highly sophisticated visual boundary across the deep ebony frame. Opening the box reveals a beautifully configured, compartmentalised interior that highlights the clever internal joinery and exotic materials characteristic of high-quality colonial portable cabinetry.
