Description

A superb example of 19th-century Chinese furniture making, this table is crafted from dense oriental hardwood and features a timeless and classic outline. Its generous length, clean profile, and presence make it a statement piece for a principal dining room or a modern open-plan living space. The table is defined by its solid, thick plank top that sits securely on a pair of strong, traditional trestle legs. This structural form showcases the honest, minimalist joinery and exceptional balance characteristic of classic Chinese timber design, letting the rich grain of the premium hardwood take centre stage. The piece is in showroom condition. It is ready for immediate use in the home.
