Description

Large oak refectory extending dining table This massive oak refectory draw leaf dining table was made circa 1910, and with the rare 3 bulbous column supports. Usually, you only have one bulbous each end, but as this table is substantial the cabinetmaker put a central support to add to the table's strength. This fantastic table is in the Elizabethan style and the design has been fashionable since the 1600's. These tables are hardwearing and grand and can take the heavy use of the modern diner. You may use this table with the leaves not out or with just one extended, this gives you flexible seating options. Imagine entertaining your family and friends around this magnificent dining table and the pleasure it will give you. The top and leaves can be removed to make transportation around your home very easy. 366cms when fully extended 12 feet 244cms closed 96ins 90cms deep 35 1/2ins 76cms high 30 1/4ins All Measurements are as accurate as possible Delivery UK mainland FREE Other destinations please contact us, and we will get a quote.
