Description

Large late 19th century Chinese hand carved bamboo /softwood brush pot,c1880. This is an impressive example with carving to roughly two thirds of the surface area. The carving depicts scholars/wise men sitting under a tree on a rocky outcrop. The carving is well executed with fine detail to the figures and the the foliage on the tree etc. It has a nice natural and organic curved shape and the wood has taken on great colour/patina following many years of handling and use. Overall condition is good in line with age and use. There is a small split to the rim ,but very minor. Please refer to the detailed photographs and feel free to contact me if you would like to view the item or have any questions. Price includes FREE UK delivery, please contact me regarding international shipping. Size: 29cm tall x 16cm wide x 10cm deep.
