Description

This Oak Revolving Adjustable Height Office Desk Chair with its curved back and generous back rest, combine to make it a wonderfully comfortable chair to use. The oak is a very pleasing mellow warm tone, which works so well with the antiqued red leather seat. Fully adjustable for height, with a reclining mechanism, many an hour can be spent productively sitting in this chair whilst revolving to your heart's content. The base sits on brass castors. There is a small amount of wear to the mechanism to be expected of a chair of this age, but everything is in good working order. Presented in excellent condition.
