Description

The combination of the varying tones of colour created by its barley twist supports and the dappling of the oak created by the medullary rays makes this 3 - tier table from the 1920s particularly attractive. These attributes have been enhanced further by our restorer. It stands at a height (69 cm), which would comfortably sit beside the majority of sofa's and armchairs. The top tier is well placed to support a lamp for reading and add decorative interest to your room. It is in lovely condition and ready to be used and enjoyed. Measurements between the tiers - bottom - middle (23 cm) / middle - top 24 cm.
