Description

We are delighted to offer this lovely antique Edwardian 9ct gold amethyst and seed pearl lavalier necklace made c.1910. Intricate, delicate and elegant, this necklace presents a wonderfully feminine and stunning bow-like design. The pendant is set with two circular amethysts, accented with various sizes of seed pearls in between the fine lacework. Upon wearing, the two separate sections move freely, further enhancing their liveliness and beauty with the gemstones glistening in many different angles and lighting. Distinguished in style and unapologetically antique, this necklace is ideal for the discerning antique jewellery lover and a conversation starter for the keen-eyed. A spectacular gift for someone special or for yourself - Amethyst is known to be the birthstone for February. The pendant is marked 9ct on the reverse side as is the bail on the chain. All of our jewellery comes with a complimentary hard shell gift box with a velvet interior. Ready to wear out of the box: All of our pendants also include the photographed thinner complimentary 9ct solid gold (modern) chain so that you can enjoy your newly acquired treasure straight out of the box.
