Description

A magnificent and scarce pair of antique Victorian glazed pottery jardinières by Woodlesford Art Pottery, Leeds with a registration mark for 1895. In the form of Corinthian columns, these attractive jardinières are decorated with vine leaves and lions masks and glazed in a Faience style similar to the nearby Burmantofts Pottery. Price is for the pair. James Senior acquired Woodlesford pottery in Leeds, West Yorkshire in 1892, using workmen from the 'Leeds Art Pottery' in Hunslet he traded as 'Woodlesford Art Pottery' manufacturing vases, Jardinières, plant pots and tiles most of which were marked. The pottery closed in 1895. Construction/Wood: Glazed pottery Condition Report: One of the jardinières is in very good condition. One jardinière has a solid old mend to the base (see photos) and has cracks to the top. Dimensions: Height: 60cm Top Width: 24cm Top Depth: 24cm Base Width: 28cm Base Depth: 28cm
