

SA1120367

Large 19th century Greek Olive Oil Jar

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA1120367*Date of manufacture: 1860

Dimensions

Height = 90 cm (35.4")

Description

Large 19th-century Greek Olive Oil Jar This 19th-century Greek olive oil pot is a stunning piece of antique Mediterranean craftsmanship, originating from the Peloponnese region of Greece. Featuring a classic beehive ribbed design, it is a quintessential example of the artistry and practicality that defined Greek pottery in the mid-1800s. Styled interiors are for presentation purposes and intended to inspire. Final layout may vary Large Peloponnese Greek Olive Oil Pot in Beehive Ribbed Design Styled interiors are for presentation purposes and intended to inspire. Final layout may vary This authentic 19th-century Greek olive oil pot was meticulously handmade from terracotta clay, reflecting the timeless traditions of Greek artisans. The pot is adorned with the typical handcrafted ribbed Nekuma decoration that embellishes its rounded bodice, adding both texture and historical significance. Its design demonstrates the fusion of form and function, as the ribbing not only adds visual interest but also strengthens the pot for daily use. The rolled rim at the top, accented by a subtle colour glaze finish, elevates its aesthetic appeal while preserving its rustic charm. Th...

Seller Details

Antiques Decorative (Sussex)

East Sussex United Kingdom By appointment only.

Tel: 07565 761917

International Tel: +44 7565 761917