Description

This is a Rare Antique George I Oak Corner Bureau c1720-30. A lovely piece raised on short turned legs with a large lower cupboard with double doors and a key to the lower door as well as the upper flap. The writing slope supports are unusual and pull out to support the flap when it is down. Internally there are a pair of drawer with pigeon holes above although I think at some point i need to find a pigeon to put in one at some point. There is also a lower section as is all bureau's of this period for stuff, writing impliments probably. It has great patination and a lovely mellow colour.

Internal Ref: Stock No 1116
