Description

This is a superb quality antique William IV mahogany sofa, after a design by John Taylor, circa 1830 in date. At this time, England was importing the best quality mahogany from its colonies, the frame and the baluster turned legs are constructed of solid hand carved mahogany. The frame carved with scrolls, leaves and palmettes, features an attractive foliate carved back rail with wonderful scroll ends and an elegant moulded frieze. Decorative carved cartouches can be seen at the top of the turned and fluted legs that terminate in elegant brass cap castors. The couch has been newly upholstered in a patterned burgundy fabric with squab and bolster cushions. Will look stunning wherever you decide to place it. Condition: In really excellent condition having been beautifully cleaned waxed and reupholstered in our workshops, please see photos for confirmation. Dimensions in cm: Height 108 cm x Width 227 cm x Depth 68 cm. Dimensions in inches: Height 3 foot, 6 inches x Width 7 foot, 5 inches x Depth 2 foot, 3 inches. This sofa is very similar to a design by John Taylor, the Covent Garden upholsterer who had formerly served as an 'artist' in the 'Elegant Furniture Warehouse...'
