Description

William and Mary walnut chest on stand This William and Mary walnut chest on stand is of a wonderful colour and with deep patina. The chest with the 2 drawers at the top and a further 3 graduated drawers under. The drawers have fine feather banding and engraved brass plate handles. The top surface is veneered in fine walnut, again with feather banding. The stand has one long drawer, and the solid walnut barley sugar supports with the shaped stretcher. William and Mary walnut chest on stand shows evidence of 300 years of use but is in fantastic condition especially after our professional restoration. As would be expected on these chests on stands, the stands quite often have replacements and adaption as the originals used to suffer with rot on the feet as they were on damp stone floors. Our example has had work done on it, probably in the Victorian period as it may have become unstable due to damage on the stand. It is part of its life and does not take away the beauty of this stunning chest. It is priced accordingly of course. This wonderful item will look fantastic wherever you place it in your home. Just imagine the compliments of your choice as your family and friends ...
