Description

This is an antique fold-over parlour card table. An English, mahogany games or side table, dating to the William IV period, circa 1835. Appealing William IV craftsmanship to this fine parlour card table. Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good order. Select stocks present superb grain interest throughout. Graced with warm caramel hues beneath a quality wax polish finish. Rotating through 90-degrees, the table opens out to reveal the playing surface. Later, professionally dressed green baize presents a splendid fit and tactile finish. Of generous size with a diameter of 84cm (33"). Beneath the folding top, a useful card box sits within the apron section. The apron accentuated with leaf bracket detail to each side. Raised upon a cylindrical support, accentuated with a chased petal mount. The base of distinctive hyperboloid form with a deep profile. Standing upon a quartet of shaped scroll feet with flowerhead patera. The whole riding smoothly upon brass castors. This is an attractive antique fold-over parlour card table, with striking gaming appeal and superior craftsmanship. Sure to enhance any room, this games table offers delightful grain interest, rich colour and a quality...
