Description

This is a pair of antique Hepplewhite taste side chairs. An English, fruitwood decorative hall seats, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1790. Superb country house appeal with the distinction of the Hepplewhite influence. Displaying a desirable aged patina, lightly time worn with age and gentle use. Delightful frames crafted in fruitwood and presenting deep caramel hues. Pleasingly overstuffed cushions with a plump, generous seat. Striking shield backs, with prominent crest rail and distinctive back splats. The crest and lower rails accentuated with relief carvings. Seat set at a comfortable height of 47.5cm (18.75"). Upholstery ready to be enjoyed as-is for the country house look. Could benefit from recovering to personal taste. Standing upon gently tapering square legs, united at the front and side with stretchers. This is a fascinating pair of antique Hepplewhite taste side chairs, ready to accentuate a reception hall of a fine country house, or accents at the side of a room. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home. Dimensions: Max Width: 51cm (20") Max Depth: 54.5cm (21.5") Max Height: 94cm (37"). Seat Width: 51cm (20") Seat Depth: 42cm (16.5") ...
