Description

A QUALITY HUGE SCALE OIL ON CANVAS BEAUTIFULLY PAINTED DEPICTING AN ELDERLY MAN STOPPING TO WATER HIS TWO THIRSTY HORSES PULLING A CANVAS TOP HAY CART This is an interesting and colourful painting full of character and charm. The scene is of a rural village which carefully captures life on the road back in 1928 pausing to water horses whilst travelling along a dirt road. The gent wearing a cap, carries a full bucket of water from the nearby cast iron water pump. The canvas topped hay cart carries his supplies and a round bale of hay. Note the horses attention being captured as they glance towards the reward they are about to receive. There are two small thatched cottages in the distance and colourful trees and foliage behind a stone block wall. The artist has monogrammed his initials in the bottom right hand corner, signing W.H. The painting is also dated 1928. CONDITION The painting is in excellent condition throughout. Past professional reline with light clean by restorers. FRAMED MEASUREMENTS Width 51 Inches (130 cm) OR 4 ft. 3" Height 40 Inches (102 cm) OR 3 ft. 4" I was very excited to be able to acquire this painting, and debated for quite a while about...
