Description

A very fine Edwardian mahogany inlaid table or cabinet, by James Shoolbred, London. This beautifully detailed piece with finely applied line inlay and beautiful Neoclassical motif marquetry detail throughout, comprising of urns, foliate swags, flowerhead and trailing bell husks. The stepped and moulded cornice with beaded detail raised over single astragal glazed door with shelved interior flanked with two cupboards with fabulous Neoclassical urn motif detail, raised over moulded top supported on shaped frieze with one single long drawer flanked with four short drawers, all with decorative brass pulls and exquisite marquetry detail, supported on elegant tapering square leg, terminating on brass casters. Made and labelled by James Shoolbred of London. James Shoolbred & Co. James Shoolbred & Co or also known as Jas Shoolbred was established in the 1820's as a draper's shop, at Tottenham Court Road, London. The company first began supplying textiles to the furniture trade. By the 1860's, the company began designing, manufacturing and selling its own exceptionally fine furniture in their thriving and fashionable furniture shop. By the 1880's, Jas Shoolbred had expanded ...
