Description

This fine English solid silver toast rack is elegant and of good practical proportions with a strong substantial construction. It stands on four ball feet which support the lower frame from which there are seven upright shaped divisions. The central one has a raised loop handle and the others form the individual sections for up to six slices of toast. This fine example is hallmarked Birmingham 1924 - 5 and bears the well known makers mark for Alexander Clarke and Co. The rack has a good weight of 176 grams. Height 12cm x width 13cm x depth 9cm
