Description

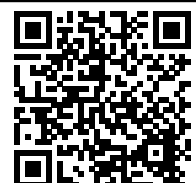

This is an antique country house captain's chair. An English, elm smoker's bow or elbow seat, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Superb country house appeal with the classic bow form. Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good original order. Select elm stocks show excellent grain interest throughout. Graced with appealing caramel hues to the delightful form. The upper rail crowned with a prominent arched and bowed back rest. Baluster turned spindles rise obliquely supporting the striking horseshoe armrest. Each arm terminates in out-turned scrolled hand grips. Saddle deeply sculpted with defined leg scallops. Standing upon a quartet of stout baluster legs united by a 'H' stretcher. This is a striking antique country house captain's chair, with appealing colour and fine English craftsmanship. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
