Description

Technical Description An exceptional mid-18th century glass candle stick with a very rare stem formation. It has a folded rim scone above a central incised or rope twisted column with multiple annulated and large air beaded ball knops above and below. Sits on a large domed and terraced foot. A stunning example at 42 cm tall. We have had many 18th century candle sticks over the years but nothing quiet as impressive in stature or design as this piece. Suits a large table in a central position. Date & Origin England, c1750. Period of George II Condition Excellent, No chips or cracks. Dimensions Height: 42cm Foot Diameter: 20.5cm.
