Description

A superb W() Factory Bough Pot & Cover c.1800. Wonderfully decorated possibly by William Billingsley with a landscape panel to the front, almost certainly when he was operating from Mansfield, in the period 1799–1802. The piece bears the impressed mark of the enigmatic W() factory. It is thought (but not known for certain) that that factory was operated by the Whitehead family-Whitehead senior having three sons-hence the three stars. Condition: Small chip to base invisibly restored. Small rim chips to lid and worn gilding restored. For more images, please visit www.fineantiqueenglishporcelain.co.uk
