The front is veneered in well chosen book matched burr walnut veneers. This lovely commode is raised on a plinth with shaped bracket feet and also retains its original intricate gilt bronze handles and escutcheons. This chest is in very good condition for its considerable age and usage. There is a slight age related split to one side, please refer to this in the photographs; this is a very common problem with all antique furniture due to modern living conditions such as central heating, open fires and/or ...
