

SA1127551

Devonshire longcase clock by Upjohn of Exeter

Price

GBP 9,950

| USD $13,438 | EUR 11,638

Item Reference: SA1127551

Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Dimensions

Height = 219 cm (86.2")

Description

NEW ARRIVAL An excellent Devonshire longcase clock by this well known and prolific clockmaker from the city of Exeter (Exon). Featuring an eight day duration movement and striking the hours on a bell. The full brass dial has a silvered brass engraved centre with foliage, scrolls, seconds and date. Also with matching blued steel hands. The corners are decorated with brass spandrels. The arch displaying a silver brass cartouche with an engraved bird and Tempus Fugit (Time Flies). The makers name Thomas Upjohn, Exon (Exeter) is engraved to the chapter ring. The beautifully proportioned flame mahogany veneered case has a long trunk door, reeded quarter pillars and capitals to each side and a plain base with a raised moulding. Standing on a shaped plinth. The hood features a broken arched top with a front elevation sound fret, viewing windows to the side and reeded pillars finished with brass Doris capitals. The dial can be accessed via a glazed locked door. NOTE: This clock has just arrived and will require some sympathetic restoration before delivery. The movement will require a service and overhaul and the dial could have its silvering freshened up if desired. The ca...

Seller Details

P A Oxley Antique Clocks & Barometers

The Old Rectory Cherhill Calne Wiltshire SN11 8UX United Kingdom

Tel: 01249 816 227

International Tel: +44 1249 816 227