Description

This is a great looking 19th century Farmhouse work table found in France. It looks to be made entirely of elm and the figuring and colour is stunning. Totally original and plenty of character with the large nuts in each side. Overall condition is very good with evidence of historical wood worm but all treated. This would make a great dining table or large console. Height 76cm Length 231cm Depth 77cm Knee height 68cm Price includes UK mainland delivery
