Description

Late C19th/ early C20th Chinese Qing Dynasty carved , gilded and red lacquered side cabinet Highly decorative lacquered side cabinet with numerous intricately carved panels, fitted 2 frieze drawers with 2 cupboards doors below. The panels featuring traditional Chinese figural and landscape scenes, together with panels of birds and flowers. The surrounds of the panels with blue , green and red lacquer borders inlaid with pieces of iridescent nacre shell. The side uprights with gilded decoration, the whole raised on shaped 'key' feet. The ends with panels , the top of traditional cleated panel construction. Originating from the north-eastern Zhejiang Province and the Ningbo sea-port area of China, a region renowned for the production of this type of carved and lacquer decorated furniture , the coastal position providing the ready availability for the use of sea-shells in this type of lacquer-work. In good original condition, with some wear to gilding and lacquer surfaces commensurate with age, use and purpose. Minor historic marks and stains to the top . A highly decorative piece of Chinese oriental furniture to bring an exotic accent to an interior scheme. H 3...
