Description

This exquisite antique 17th-century oak coffer is a remarkable piece of history, showcasing exceptional craftsmanship and timeless charm. Of a very attractive and rare small size, it stands on sturdy square legs, emphasising its solid and well-built structure. The beautifully carved front adds a touch of elegance, featuring intricate detailing that reflects the skill of its period artisans. Designed for both function and beauty, the coffer offers a spacious central storage compartment, perfect for keeping linens, valuables, or other household items. Inside, a charming candle box sits to the right, a practical feature commonly found in pieces of this era. The rich oak patina has developed beautifully over the centuries, enhancing its warm and inviting character. In great condition for its age, this coffer is a stunning and authentic piece of early furniture history, ideal for collectors or those looking to add a unique, centuries-old charm to their home.
