Description

In the antiquarian Revival style associated with the designs of Richard Bridgens for George Bullock and others. Beautifully executed throughout with satinwood interior and cedar-drawer linings. The hinged pen tray is also black, the desk runs on counter-sunk brass castors. In good original, unrestored condition. Missing shallow gallery at the top with some fine shrinkage splits to the veneers on the feet and a small vertical gap on the back panel. The leather skiver is probably original and has some losses. There is the odd faint and isolated cup mark. For additional images or if you have any questions, please let me know. Reliable transport throughout the UK can be easily arranged at cost price.
