Description

This is an antique display table. An English, oak tripod podium in the manner of Liberty and the Arts & Crafts movement, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Striking form, with hexagonal top and appealing Arts & Crafts appearance. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Select oak presents fine grain interest and wisps of medullary rays. Rich caramel hues accentuate the superb tripod form. Dashing hexagonal top with a generous surface, ideal for lamps or planters. Canted legs replete with distinctive elongated 'clock hand' pierced motif. Useful under tier situated within the trio of square section legs. Shaped bracket feet add a final visual flourish to the whole. Unmarked as such, but redolent of Liberty, London. This is a superb antique display table, diminutive in stature but of distinguished visual appearance. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
