Description

This is an antique country house smoker's bow. An English, elm captain's chair or elbow seat, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1870. Traditional country house appeal, in the classic bow form. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Select elm stocks present wonderful grain interest throughout. Excellent colour with deep caramel hues to the delightful frame. The upper rail crowned with a prominent bowed back rest. Baluster turned spindles rise obliquely, supporting the striking horseshoe armrest. Each arm terminates in out-turned scrolled hand grips. Wide saddle squab deeply sculpted with defined leg scallops. Standing upon a quartet of baluster legs united by a 'H' stretcher. This is a superb antique country house smoker's bow, with appealing colour and fine English craftsmanship. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
