Description

Ashanti Stool – A Symbol of Tradition & Heritage Bring authentic Ghanaian craftsmanship into your home with this beautifully hand-carved Ashanti stool. Made from a single piece of wood, it's more than just a functional piece—it's a reflection of history, culture, and status. Perfect as a low side table or a striking decorative accent. A Seat of Spiritual Significance In Ashanti tradition, stools are deeply symbolic, representing power, leadership, and ancestral connection. The most revered of them all—the Golden Stool—is believed to hold the spirit of the Asante nation. Unlike other stools, it is never sat upon and is kept under strict protection, only appearing for the most sacred ceremonies. Each Ashanti chief has a stool that represents his soul, reinforcing the deep cultural and spiritual meaning behind these pieces. Own a part of this legacy and bring history into your space.
