Description

A spectacular Art Deco illuminated clock featuring a sculpture of the water carrier / Nude with a Vase. The exquisite geometric design of the clock case is crafted from Portoro marble and white onyx, adorned with a geometric spelter structure holding the clock dial. It is mounted by a cold-painted spelter sculpture of a kneeling lady holding an alabaster vase. In good vintage condition, with general wear consistent with age and use. The clock operates with a French, 8-day, striking platform movement, which has recently been serviced and is in good working order. The built-in lamps currently have an EU plug; an adapter will be provided upon request. A truly stunning and extremely rare example of both the functionality and aesthetics of the Art Deco period.
