

SA1133672

Georgian relief moulded Ale Jug circa 1820

Price

GBP 280

| USD $382 | EUR 327

Item Reference: SA1133672Date of manufacture: Georgian

Description

This jug was manufactured by JD Bagster. The jug is a superb stoneware example. the relief moulding is beautifully sharp. If I were to fault this jug it would be difficult! It has a small area of the handle which has a manufacturing flaw! Perhaps when the potter lifted the jug in its final pre glaze stage!! As the surface is clearly scuffed! But this is under glaze and has not hindered its use or beauty for the past 205 years! JD Bagster is clearly imprinted in the hounds collar. The scene is one of hunting with "sight hounds" . I imagine this to be greyhound/lurcher. John Denton Bagster was based in Hanley in North Staffordshire and one of the first potters to create quality "sharp" detailed jugs. Other than the original flaw mentioned and photographed the jug is free from restoration , chips cracks or crazing. Approx 7 1/2 inches tall

Internal Ref: Big jg

Seller Details

Antoinettes Heirlooms

The Pheasant Room The Charlecote Pheasant Hotel Charlecote
Warwickshire CV35 9EW United Kingdom

Tel: 07794 559383 or 01789 638113

International Tel: +44 1789 638113

