Description

Fabulous Victorian drop-leaf work table is crafted from solid mahogany and exudes timeless charm. It features two drop leaves with elegant scalloped edges, extending the table top to 89cm when fully opened. The design includes a single drawer with a cupboard beneath with faux drawer front, with small bun handles for added character. The table stands on four beautifully turned legs that terminate in brass cup castors, all connected by a lower tier, providing both stability and decorative appeal. While it has the usual imperfections that come with antiques, this piece is solidly constructed and boasts a rich colour and patina, reflecting its excellent condition and history. Perfect as a lamp table for a living room or hallway, this elegant and practical table brings a touch of Victorian charm to any space.
