Description

This stunning Victorian solid mahogany hall stand, or hall tree, is an excellent example of fine Victorian craftsmanship in fantastic antique condition. The central support features a slim mirror and four gracefully curving branches, with a total of eight turned pegs, perfect for hanging hats, coats, or scarves. The base includes a shaped white marble top, sitting above a small frieze drawer that is ideal for storing keys, change, or other small items. Bold, carved legs provide sturdy support, while elegantly curved umbrella stands on either side are fitted with original drip trays. The entire piece is set upon a shaped platform base with neat bun feet, showcasing both stability and style. As with all antique furniture, there are some natural imperfections, but this hall stand is a testament to enduring craftsmanship. It offers both practical functionality and timeless elegance, making it a sophisticated addition to any entryway.
