Description

Antique Mahogany Corner Display Cabinet This antique mahogany corner cabinet features two upper astral-glazed doors that open to reveal three fitted shelves, perfect for showcasing your prized possessions. Below, three drawer fronts are displayed, with the central drawer being the only functional one, while the flanking drawers are purely decorative faux drawers. The cabinet is elegantly raised on tall cabriole supports, with a decorative frontal underskirt adding to its charm. Though there are a few marks and a small piece of wood missing from the left frontal leg, this does not affect the cabinet's stability. Its distinctive design provides excellent storage and makes an eye-catching addition to any space. The cabinet splits in two halves for ease of movement and transport.
