Description

A 19th Century Diminutive Hand Painted Enamel, Chinese Porcelain Vase Lamp, newly wired and PAT tested, 18cm. A superbly stylish late 19th century, hand painted porcelain Chinese vase, later converted to a small lamp around early 20th century, circa 1910-1920. A small whilst splendid decoration antique lamp with a prolific traditional Chinese figural and floral theme and motifs, expertly hand painted with striking colour and skill. The lamp measures 18cm with a brass ormolu base and top, newly wired and new bulb housing, with natural linen braided cable, PAT test, plug and in-line switch, a charming decorative piece that sits well and can complement a classic or contemporary space, desk, coffee table, bookcase, mantelpiece etc.. Dimensions Height 18cm Diameter 7cm Please request more photos and any questions invited. Presented in very good condition, no cracks, chips or glaze distress, the brass has a timeworn and some tiny show of wear to the base which adds authenticity and character. Free collection from Lewes, East Sussex. Dispatched U.K. and worldwide within 2-3 working days with tracking.
